* * * DON'T MISS READING THIS IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT! * * *

The fall of 1951 was very unfavorable for maturing SMALL GRAIN, CORN, SOYBEANS, etc. Farmers throughout the Middle West have been warned by AGRICULTURAL COLLEGES, EXPERIMENT STATIONS, AND COUNTY AGENTS to have their seed grain tested before seeding.

Many commercial and state seed laboratories will not be able to handle the anticipated volume of seed testing as promptly as required.

If poor germinating seed is planted, the results may be disastrous. THIS CAN BE AVOIDED.

A HANDY SEED TESTER IS THE ANSWER. They are manufactured by E. L. Erickson, former SOUTH DAKOTA STATE SEED ANALYST and is recommended by S. D. STATE COLLEGE SEED LABORATORY for home use. It is easy to use - it is efficient - it is inexpensive. Tests can be completed within a few days.

The HANDY SEED TESTERS consist of small 5x5 plastic boxes equipped with blotters and absorbent pads Kimpak. Add water, place seed on pads, close the box, keep in room temperature, and watch the seed grow. Complete directions enclosed with each set. Three sizes to choose from.

The first of July was very early in the season for the planting of corn in this section. The weather was very warm and the soil was very dry. The corn was planted in rows 4 feet apart and 12 inches apart in the rows. The seed was of the best quality and was sown in the usual manner.

STATE OF ILLINOIS

Report of the State of Illinois for the year ending December 31, 1900. The report contains a detailed account of the state's finances, including receipts and disbursements, and a statement of the state's condition at the end of the year. The report is divided into several sections, each dealing with a different aspect of the state's affairs. The first section deals with the state's general finances, and the second section deals with the state's public works. The third section deals with the state's education, and the fourth section deals with the state's agriculture. The fifth section deals with the state's commerce, and the sixth section deals with the state's industry. The seventh section deals with the state's public health, and the eighth section deals with the state's social services. The ninth section deals with the state's military and naval forces, and the tenth section deals with the state's foreign relations. The report is a comprehensive and detailed account of the state's affairs, and it is a valuable source of information for anyone interested in the state's finances and public affairs.
